Historical Note

This collection has been minimally processed and added to over the years. Past staff has amassed these cards and saved them in boxes with little organization. It appears that a majority of the cards came from donations made by Emily Warren and Lloyd Robson, although the donations were unrecorded together.

Scope and Content

This is a collection of hundreds of greeting cards organized by holiday when possible. They feature many different types of greeting cards including mass produced and handmade cards.

Organization

This collection is arranged in one series. Because dates of the greeting cards are difficult to predict and due to the size of the collection, it was decided to not arrange the cards chronological or record dates for each folder. Any card can be easily located by browsing a particular holiday's folder.
